As a standard practice with the app sign out after using each week.

If you process an order and your address does not appear automatically this is an indicator you have timed out. You should then sign out and back in again

On the app you may receive a message after entering credit card details of expiry date not valid just enter the ok as it will be fine

When paying by paypal on the website you will be directed back to the website after completing payment make sure you then confirm your order otherwise it will not be processed
